ABOUT US

pah-SKWA-leh

The New York City-based Delicious Hospitality Group was formed in 2013 by Chef Ryan Hardy and Wine Director Grant Reynolds. Hardy is a chef of many credentials: A four-time Best Chef James Beard Award and Rising Star finalist during his international career, set in place by his work as an organic farmer, charcuterie butcher and cheese-maker. Reynolds is a decorated sommelier; his experience having worked in celebrated restaurants from NYC to Copenhagen led him to land a position on the Forbes' 2017 30 Under 30 list.

In 2013, the team opened their first restaurant, Charlie Bird, in New York's SoHo neighborhood which quickly garnered media attention winning Eater's "Best New Restaurant". In 2016, DHG opened its second venture, Pasquale Jones in Manhattan's Little Italy. Pasquale Jones, a pizzeria turned wine destination, became an instant success with its signature clam pie and sophisticated wine list. In 2018, DHG ventured uptown and opened a series of dining experiences near Hudson Yards, including Legacy Records, a Mediterranean-inspired restaurant, Easy Victor café, Ada's Place wine and cocktail bar and Parcelle, a wine retail shop with on-demand delivery and weekly education classes.
